

MILEPOST HIGHLIGHTS

- 0.0 Skyline Drive begins at the intersection of US Route 340 just south of Front Royal. Over the next 100 miles, you'll climb to almost 3,500 feet several times.
- 2.8 Shenandoah Valley Overlook has one of the best views of the Shenandoah Valley you'll see. Check out the South Fork of the Shenandoah River snaking through.
- 7.2 Gooney Manor Overlook - 2,000 feet up and more than 180 degrees of view.
- 16.0 Appalachian Trail crossing - you'll cross paths with it many more times along the way. You've climbed to about 3,000 feet now.
- 18.5 Gimlet Ridge has a great panoramic view - a real wow, especially on clear days!
- 20.0 Little Devil Stairs view of the Valley is particularly good. This is one of the best unofficial hikes as well.
- 20.7 Hogback Overlook views are greater than 200 degrees and made all the better by the nearly 3,400 altitude.
- Overall Run Falls, the highest waterfall in the park, is a strenuous round-trip hike of 6.4 miles. Park at the lot near Hogback Overlook and begin your 0.4-mile hike down to the falls along part of the Appalachian Trail. Be sure to wear sturdy shoes.
- 21.1 Thornton Gap entrance marks the middle section of Skyline Drive. Take a detour out of the park to take in a winery in the quaint villages of Sperryville & Washington to the East and Luray to the west.
- The next 30 miles of Skyline Drive are the most visited, offering many spectacular overlooks, hiking trails, camping and picnic areas, Skyland Resort, the perfect place for a meal or trail ride, and famous Great Meadow with ranger guided tours available.
- 31.5 "Stony Man Mountain" - Stop at the Stony Man Overlook and gaze west to see a profile of his face. Or follow the 1.6-mile, moderately difficult trail from the Stony Man parking area to the top of "his" forehead.
- 38.6 Thorofare Overlook is one of the highest at 3595 feet. The mountain in the distance is Old Rag, on the national bucket list for very good hiking, climbing and camping.
- 40.5 Skyland is the most famous 'camp' on the Drive. It has been the 'in' spot for summer vacationers since the late 1890s. The cool mountain air is a welcome retreat for those caught in the hot humid summer city weather.
- 42.0 White Oak Canyon Falls - for the serious hiker - there are 6 falls in White Oak Canyon. Gorgeous but be prepared to hike all day (8-10 hours). Start at the bottom of White Oak Canyon not on Skyline Drive so you are hiking downward at the end of the day.
- 42.6 Stop at Crescent Rock Overlook to take in views of Hawksbill Summit, the highest point in the park 4,051 ft.
- 44.0 Rose River Falls - 2.6 mile hike leads to a dazzling waterfall with 4 cascades of 67 feet.
- 49.4 Dark Hollow Falls
- 50.7 Big Meadow visitors center tells the story about what it took to establish Shenandoah National Park. There are Ranger guided tours of the Meadow. Lewis Falls are at milepost 51.4.
- 51.0 Park at Milam Gap to begin a moderate, four-mile round-trip trek to Rapidan Camp, a national historic landmark that was former President Herbert Hoover's summer White House.
- Bearfence Mountain trail is a 0.8-mile hike that requires scrambling over some rocks to 360-degree views of the Shenandoah mountains.
- 52.8 South River Falls - nice 8.5 mile hike with ruins, cemetery & falls. Plan 8 hours.
- 56.4 Swift Run Gap entrance marks the southern section of Skyline Drive. Exit onto Rt 33 to head east toward Rt 29 and Charlottesville or west toward Harrisonburg to take in some charming wineries. The next 30+ miles are a bit wilder with lots to see and plenty of trails to hike.
- 62.8 Brown Mountain Overlook at 2840 feet in elevation has incredible views
- 77.0 The quick shop store is 1-1/2 miles from here with campgrounds and picnic area on Loft Mountain.
- 80.0 Doyle's River Falls
- 81.1 Dundo Overlook has a great broad perspective view of the middle Shenandoah Valley.
- 83.5 Jones Run Falls - the hike is 3.4 miles round trip.
- 84.1 Horsehead Mountain Overlook shows the large fields of exposed rock faces across the mountain.
- Jarmon Gap marks the actual end of the Park...the next 9 miles are a sliver of right-of-way through private property.
- 88.5 Rockfish Gap is the Southern boundary of Skyline Drive. Exits just beyond the station go west to Waynesboro and Staunton or east to Charlottesville and Monticello where you can take in the restaurants, B&Bs and exquisite wineries of the Monticello AVA.
